

CLASS NOTICE OF SETTLEMENT

On June 29, 2018, Johnathan Weimar filed a cause of action on behalf of himself and others similarly situated against Geico Advantage Insurance Company in the Chancery Court of Shelby County, Tennessee. On October 11, 2019, this case was removed to the United States District Court for the Western District of Tennessee, Western Division. It has been assigned Case No. 2:19-cv-2698-JTF-tmp.

The Complaint alleges that, in some situations, Geico improperly applied a deductible to uninsured motorists' property damage claims. Under Tennessee law, it is unlawful for an insurance company to apply a deductible to an uninsured motorist property damage claim if the uninsured motorist is ascertainable and solely at fault and if the policy holder had collision coverage in addition to uninsured motorist property damage coverage with the insurance company at the time of the loss. In addition to meeting these criteria, claimants must also have suffered a financial loss as a result of the application of the deductible. There may be circumstances such that although a deductible was improperly applied, but there was no financial loss to the policy holder. Geico has raised numerous defenses and denies any and all wrongdoing or liability.
